

BACKSTORY

Hunter

You kept on hunting ghosts, for real, quietly putting disturbed spirits to rest. It's hard and dangerous, but someone had to keep fighting the good fight after the others deserted. You are poor and a little crazy.

BACKSTORY

Celebrity

You went on to moderate fame, not really "hunting ghosts", not doing good work, but writing tell-all ghost books and appearing on television. You are self-satisfied and wealthy.

Careerist

You quit entirely and started fresh in a boring, lucrative line of work. An accountant, a tax advisor, that sort of thing. You were sure this chapter of your life was over. Now you have much to lose.

BACKSTORY

Disaster

You went in and out of institutions for years. You're still just barely hanging on, abusing anything that will stave off the voices, the things you see. You are broke and desperate.

BACKSTORY

Professor

You went on to be an academic, and have been fighting a terminal disease for years, becoming more attuned with death. You are interested in where this will lead. You have nothing to lose.

Parent

Your family is your joy, you care for them so deeply. You are always afraid. Knowing that the other side could reach out for your children any given night scares you witless.
