

PLACECARD: PARENT

You got me to come today. What hope have we discovered that we share?

You look up to me. Why do you think I know how to move on from the pain?

PLACECARD: SPOUSE

We ended up marrying. Are we finding a way to build a new life together?

You yelled at me at the funerals. What's so unbearable about the way I handle grief?

PLACECARD: SIBLING

You think I betrayed our boys by not going to war at their side. Will you ever forgive me?

When you look at me you remember who you lost. How can you be so kind to me?

PLACECARD: CHILD

You've tried to be my guide over the years. Have you done more good than harm?

I surprised you with how well I coped with the pain. Have you ever told me that?
